CRC Staff Spotlight Chrissy Marsh

Chrissy has worked for Cherokee Nation for 20 years in the areas of health and education. Chrissy graduated high school from Hulbert High School, earned a Bachelor’s of Arts degree from Northeastern State University in 2006 and then earned her Master’s in Native American Leadership with an emphasis in Education in 2020. Chrissy received financial help from Cherokee Nation College Resources. “I would not have been able to complete my Masters if it wasn’t for the Cherokee Nation Scholarship program.” Chrissy loves helping people and she likes seeing people reach their goals.

The most rewarding part about her job is “helping those students reach their educational goals, graduating and coming back to work with the Cherokee Nation to help our Cherokee citizens.”

When she is not working she enjoys watching her son play sports, being around friends and family, working on different projects around her house, anything outdoors and planning her daughter’s wedding.

COBELL SCHOLARSHIP WEBINAR

January 12 at 6 P.M. CST

The Director of the Cobell Scholarship, Bridget Neconie, will be joining us to discuss important details and information regarding the national Cobell Scholarship. Cherokee students, parents and school staff who are interested are encouraged to join us to learn more about this funding opportunity.

Feel free to email or call your advisor for any scholarship questions (assigned by last name unless noted).
